

The Birth-to-Three Quality Initiative and DCDEE are offering a New Infant Toddler Teacher Orientation (NITTO)!

Understand your value as a birth-to-three teacher and ways to care for yourself while caring for our youngest.

- Free online format, with 14 credit hours upon completion
- Comprehensive training completed in seven (7) weeks
- Practical knowledge that you can apply in a birth-to-three classroom

What are birth-to-three teachers and administrators saying about NITTO?

“I thought [NITTO] was a great training and very informative. It really helped me as a new teacher and helped reduce a lot of my anxiety.”

“I learned different strategies to help take care of myself so that I can be the best for the children and I also learned strategies to make sure that the infants have high quality learning experiences.”

“NITTO is a good training for beginning teachers...it has so much good information...to help a young teacher.”

Course content includes:

- NC Early Care & Learning
- Brain Development
- Routine Care
- Classroom Environment
- Behavior Guidance

Each section contains fun videos, activities and resources for you to share!

For further assistance, contact itorientation@childcareservices.org.

Find the course at dcdee.moodle.nc.gov. You will need to have an NCID to access the Moodle site.

NCDHHS
Division of Child Development and Early Education